

DAC ARSW23 3-Meter Subwoofer Cable

Overview

DAC's ARSW23 is a premium 3-meter subwoofer cable with filter is designed specifically for home theatre enthusiasts who demand exceptional low frequency audio quality. With its advanced construction and materials, this cable ensures that you experience deep, powerful bass while minimizing interference and signal loss.

Key Features

- Pre-Terminated Design: Ready for immediate use, eliminating the hassle of installation and ensuring a secure connection.
- Oxygen-Free Copper Conductors: Provides superior conductivity for cleaner sound and reduced signal loss, enhancing overall audio performance.
- Foamed PE Insulation: Offers excellent electrical insulation properties, helping to maintain signal integrity and reducing interference.
- Double Shield Construction: Combines foil and braid shielding to protect against electromagnetic and radio frequency interference, ensuring a clear audio signal.
- Stylish Polyester Nylon Braid Jacket: Not only enhances durability but also adds an aesthetically pleasing look, making it suitable for any home theatre setup.
- Frequency Response: Capable of handling a frequency range of 20Hz to 100Hz, delivering rich, powerful bass that enhances your audio experience.

Technical Specifications

- Cable Length: 3 meters
- Conductor Material: Oxygen-free copper
- Insulation Material: Foamed polyethylene (PE)
- Shielding: Double shield (foil and braid)
- Frequency Response: 20Hz - 100Hz
- Connector Type: Pre-terminated lockable metal RCA connectors

In summary, the DAC ARSW23 subwoofer cable is an excellent choice for home theatre enthusiasts looking to elevate their low frequency audio experience. Its high-quality construction and thoughtful design features make it a reliable and stylish addition to any setup.

